STELLAR CARD ARRANGED FOR WRESTLING SHOW

Boxing Bouts Will Lead up to McMillen-King
Kong Finals

"Filled with Thrills" is the card that will be offered to sport fans at the benefit wrestling and boxing show to be put on under the auspices of the Antioch Township Volunteer Fire Department Friday evening, April 28, in the Antioch Township High school gym.

Boxing matches featuring winners in the recent "Golden Gloves" tournament at the school will add further interest to the program culminating in a double wind-up which stars Jim McMillen vs. King Kong and Ruffy Silverstein vs. the Chinese star Chin Lee.

William Chouske, Fox Lake, wt. 155 pounds, will take on Richard Davis of Antioch, weight 151 pounds, for an exhibition sparring bout.

Harold White of Fox Lake, 135 pounds, is matched with James Ropenak, 135 pounds, of Antioch. Robert Hallows of Antioch, and William Owens, Lake Villa, are matched at 112 pounds. Bob Smith of Antioch will act as referee.

Celebrities to Attend

A number of celebrities in the sports world have signified their intention of attending the show.

Among them are Harold "Red" Grange, one of football's immortals; George Halas, president of the Bears football team, and Jack Manders.

Halas is famous, among other things, for being the only football coach in the world who can't be fired, for he owns the team. Manders is the outstanding halfback in professional football today. He is a renowned placekicker and is referred to by sports writers as the player with the "educated toe."

Will Be Exciting

The stellar wrestling numbers are expected to present some exciting action, with McMillen meeting an arch-enemy of long standing in Kong, the colorful Abyssinian wildman.

Silverstein, who has proved himself a match even for Jim on occasion, and who defeated him in an encounter at the Coliseum in Chicago last Friday, will on this occasion match speed and cleverness with the wily oriental, Lee, who has been downing most of the big stars on the west coast.

Featuring for the first time in Lake county a real jiu-jitsu match in which the contestants wear the Judo jackets, is the demonstration to be put on by Mutty Matsura, holder of the third degree black belt rank in Japan, and the Honolulu champion, Jerry Meeker. This match is expected by many to "steal the show."

Locals to Take Part

In addition to the professional matches, two local wrestlers of some repute, Bill Murphy and Chet Kilpatrick, both of Antioch, are slated to match tricks before the large crowd. Kilpatrick, hailed as the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company champion, has been training hard for the bout with hopes of impressing promoters who might be in attendance, while Murphy, who has worked out with McMillen, is expected to do his best to squelch those hopes.

Proceeds of the benefit will be applied toward the purchase of new uniforms for the Antioch Fire department.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD RE-HIRES TEACHERS

Principal L. O. Bright Not Retained as Head of School

Re-employment of all faculty members at the Antioch Township High school, with the exception of Principal L. O. Bright, was announced by Pres. A. Maplethorpe following a meeting of the board of education at the school Tuesday night.

Those tendered contracts for the coming year are: R. H. Childers, history; athletics; Esther Ellderjohn, English; L. C. Hack, science; C. L. Kutil, agriculture; Helen M. Olsen, commerce; Marguerite Phillips, drama; Ruby Richey, economics; H. H. Riechers, mathematics; Cornelia Roberts, history; English; M. M. Stillson, industrial arts; Hans von Holwede, music; German; Mildred Hulik, secretary; Lucile Slocum, commercial; Lucile Putz, librarian, typing; and Miss Alice E. Smith, history.

Board members offered no comment regarding their failure to renew the contract of Principal Bright.

The board, under the new organization, according to Maplethorpe, is striving to promote closer harmony among the faculty members and seeks co-ordination of effort that is vital to the welfare of the student body, and in maintaining the present high standard of the school. A new guiding head may be able to effect that desirable result, board members hope.

In addition to the regular committees on curriculum, finance and building and grounds, other committees are to be named; President Maplethorpe announced today. Among the new departments affecting the school's management will be a purchasing agent and a cafeteria committee.

"Each committee will have a definite work to perform and the members will be held responsible for the duties entrusted to them," Maplethorpe said.

Renominate Candidates for Judicial Election

Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan, Judge William L. Pierce of Belvidere, and Attorney Thomas E. Gill of Rockford were re-nominated as Republican candidates for the three circuit judgeships in the election to be held June 5, Tuesday evening at the re-called Seventeenth Judicial circuit convention held in the Woodstock court house.

Failure to file the certificates of nomination after the Republican judicial convention at Rockford April 15 necessitated the calling of a new session to re-nominate the candidates.

CHARGES TAX INEQUALITIES IN LAKE COUNTY

Assessed Values Range from 12 to 30%, Taxpayers'
Secretary Says

The assessed valuation of property in Lake county ranges from 12 percent of its fair cash value in some localities to thirty percent in others, instead of being uniform, as it should be according to law, Mrs. Ed. Bacon, secretary of the Central Lake County Taxpayers' association, charges in a report made public by that group.

Mrs. Bacon calls attention to the fact that this is the year of the quadrennial assessment, when values will be placed on real estate throughout Illinois as the determining factor in the amount of taxes the owners will pay on their property for the next four years.

The charge of unfair variations in assessment rates in Lake county was brought out at a meeting of the assessors, at which a representative of the Illinois tax commission was in attendance.

Urban Rates Lower

In her report Mrs. Bacon states: "Taxable property in Lake county is supposed to be assessed at twenty-five percent of its fair cash value and by mutual agreement it is to continue in the assessing this year."

"The Illinois tax commission has had a group working in our court house for more than four years and these facts have been brought to light: Instead of the twenty-five percent factor being used throughout Lake county, it ranges in several towns from twelve to thirty percent. This means that the people in one town are being asked to pay two and one-half times as much county tax as those living in another town."

"Also taking the county as a whole, the urban property is assessed on a twenty-four percent basis, while the rural property is assessed at twenty-eight percent of its fair cash value. On an unequal basis of assessing the farmer bears the greater tax burden according to the benefits received. A higher assessment only adds to the tax load."

Admits Excess

"Farm prices were discussed at the meeting and it was admitted that some of the assessed values now on farm properties were in excess of twenty-five percent of a fair cash value. Many of the assessors made known their willingness to reduce to the twenty-five percent ratio those they found out of line, but in some towns it looked as if there might be an appreciable reduction in the total assessment and at this point Supervisor of Assessments County Treasurer, Garfield Leaf called upon Farm Advisor, H. C. Gikerson to speak on behalf of the farmers."

"Mr. Gikerson said that even though many farms had been sold in the past two or three years for less than the assessed values, the taxing bodies would be handicapped with lower values, and as farm land was even assessed he believed it would be better to raise other property a little."

"County Clerk J. B. Morse spoke saying he believed farm values were quite evenly spread, that these were discussed from time to time with Mr. Gikerson and others who came with him, therefore he would advise that farm values be left about the same."

"How many know that the Lake County Board of Supervisors allocates funds to the Farm Bureau organizations each year? Farmers are paying mighty dear for the dollars this organization collects from the county funds."

THE ROAD HOG

Booth at Travel Show Advertis Lakes Region

Decorated in "lake" and "woods" style is the booth at the Chicago Travel show which advertises Antioch and the Lakes region.

The Antioch Lions club has co-operated with business men and resort owners of the lakes region in taking over Booth 106 at the show, which opened today in the Stevens hotel. The Chicago Daily News is the originator of the four-day exhibition.

Thousands of folders advertising this region and containing striking pictures of beauty spots in the lakes area, as well as a map showing lakes, roads and highways about Antioch, are being distributed to visitors at the show.

On Wednesday a committee consisting of Robert Mann, Lions Club President, W. I. Scott, and Irving Elms went to Chicago to decorate the booth. An "aquarium" in which life-like frogs constructed and loaned by Dr. D. N. Deering repose among lily pads is one of the features. Other parts of the decorations help carry out the "lakes" and vacationland idea.

Today, George Joedicke and Adolph Kucera, assisted by H. S. Roberts, are in charge of the booth. Helping to spread the fame of Antioch as the "Hub of the Lakes Region" on Friday will be Ed. Vos and William Brooks. On Saturday L. O. Bright, who will select his own committee, will be in charge.

On Sunday, the closing day of the exhibit, the committee will consist of the Lions club secretary, Frank Powles; C. E. Hennings and Postmaster James F. Horan.

The advertising program is designed to help present to the vacation-minded public the many attractions the lakes region of Antioch has to offer, in line with those of many other and competing resort areas that spend thousands of dollars annually in advertising to win the coveted and highly remunerative vacation business.

Sister of Antioch Residents Passes

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Hansen Funeral home, Kenosha, for Mrs. Emma Counsel, 80, sister of Charles and John Sibley, Antioch. Interment was at Paris Corners cemetery.

Although Mrs. Counsel had been in poor health for some time her death, which was due to heart trouble, was unexpected and came as a shock to members of her family and friends. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Nuthen, Kenosha, with whom she had lived for many years.

Survivors besides her daughter and brothers include two grandsons and a great-granddaughter. She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry Counsel, who died in 1900, and by a brother, Robert Sibley of Salem, and three sisters, Mrs. Hannah Boulden, Wilmet; Mrs. Susan Dibble, Antioch, and Mrs. Sarah Winchell, Wilmet.

She was born Feb. 6, 1859, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Sibley of Union Grove. After her marriage she and her husband made their home at Paris Corners. On Mr. Counsel's death, the family moved to Antioch, later going to Kenosha.

FIREMEN ELECT STEARNS CHIEF FOR 14TH YEAR

Herman Rosing Is Re-elected as Assistant Fire
Chief

Fire Chief James Stearns was re-elected by the Antioch Township Fire department to serve as its chief, again for the coming year, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the village hall. This will be Stearns' fourteenth year as head of the department.

Herman Rosing, assistant fire chief, was also re-elected.

Reports were given on the progress of plans for the benefit wrestling and boxing show the firemen are sponsoring Friday evening for the purchase of new uniforms. The announcement was made that all plans for that event are now complete and a good evening's entertainment and a large attendance seem assured.

A social period, during which coffee and sandwiches were served, followed the business of the evening.

The past week was a quiet one for the firemen in the way of duty, for no fire alarms were turned in.

On Monday evening, a delegation from the Antioch department, including Frank Huber, Louis Van Patten, Clarence Shultz, Assistant Chief Rosing, Robert Wilton and Richard Ailner, attended a meeting of the Lake county association at Libertyville.

The next meeting of the county association will be the annual one, to be held at Highland Park May 22.

County Zoning Code Is Passed by Supervisors

A Lake county zoning ordinance specifying the uses to which land and buildings in rural sections of the county may be put was passed by the board of supervisors Tuesday at Waukegan. R. M. Lobdell, county superintendent of highways, was charged with the duty of acting as enforcing officer. The ordinance was drafted by a county zoning commission headed by John J. Hogan, Waukegan.

ANTIOCH ANGLER'S INVENTION CREATES REAL SENSATION

Life-like Frog Designed by Dr. Deering Takes Fancy
of Fishermen

Translating the scientific skill of his lifetime career, medicine, to his spare-time hobby, fishing, Dr. D. N. Deering, of Antioch, has found himself on the way to becoming, much to his surprise, something of a celebrity among the devotees of Izaak Walton's favorite sport.

While making some water-proof "flies" during a few free moments recently, Dr. Deering amused himself also by constructing a few small rubber frogs with a view to trying them out, also as bait.

Scientifically accurate as to size, proportion and coloring, the little "frogs," which varied from the tadpole to the full-grown stage, were greatly admired by numerous fisherman friends in the lakes region.

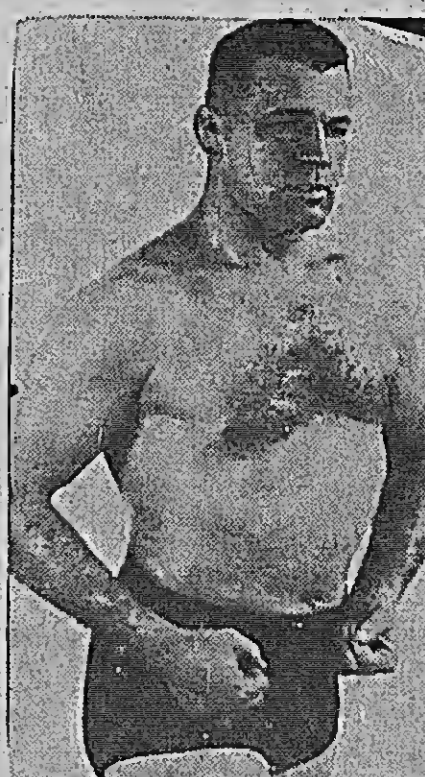

Hearing of the novel invention, a Chicago fishing supplies company—Voedisch Brothers, one of the largest jobbers of fishing tackle in the United States—requested exclusive distribution rights, which were granted to them.

So "Spotty," as the frog was christened, is being patented, and distributed to stores dealing in sporting goods everywhere. He is expected to make his appearance soon in Antioch and in other towns in the lakes area as well as other parts of the country.

Meanwhile fishermen everywhere, gaining advance news of "Spotty's" advent into the sports world, are sending advance orders to the Chicago firm, which is already finding its supply unequal to the demand.

"Spotty" is to be featured, also, in the "Lakes Region" display at the Outdoor festival in Chicago.

To Wrestle Friday

"Jim" McMillen of Antioch, who will meet the Abyssinian wonder, King Kong, in the benefit wrestling and boxing match the Antioch firemen will sponsor Friday evening at the high school.

New Deal Needs Scatter Gun

Presidential politics is getting an early start here this year as Republicans unify their ranks with the expectation of reclaiming the White House in 1940 and Democrats align themselves to turn back the New Deal horde at the nominating convention. Almost all observers agree that the New Dealers are in a panic.

They had a theory built up that "you can't beat eight billion dollars." Now they suddenly find that not only is there a good chance of the Republicans winning, but even in their own party they have become a small minority.

The answer is, and this can be written in your hat to watch as the situation unfolds, the old "smear 'em" technique is being brought forth in full force. On one side it is being turned against Democrats like Jack Garner, McNutt of Indiana, Clark of Missouri, and others who have not followed the New Deal "party line." On the other side it is being aimed at Republican presidential timber, such as Tom Dewey of New York, Bob Taft of Ohio, Bridges of New Hampshire, and once again upon Hoover, as the titular leader of the party.

The difficulty is that in the past the new Deal smearers were able to take one target at a time. First they smeared Hoover, then the bankers, then business and various individuals as they stuck their heads up. It is tough even for an old wheel-horse smearer like Charlie Michelson to get the mud distributed in so many directions with the nominating conventions and elections moving nearer rapidly.

Union Free High School
"Skeets" Oetting pitched a no hit baseball game against Waterford, playing in rain and on a soggy diamond for the opening game in the Southeastern Wisconsin League. Wilmot had an 8-1 victory with a no-hitter in nine innings and struck out 16. Waterford had one run on three walks and a passed ball.

"He Means Well"

All indications show plainly that the millions who voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt and who trusted him to carry out his platform pledges of re-employment and governmental economy are sliding away from him. Washington newspaper correspondents generally agree that the Republicans will win in 1940.

But still the most common analysis one hears of the President is that "He means well." "He has tried." Fewer and fewer people try to defend to various failures of the present Administration and its precipitation of a new depression, but they fall back on a defense that the New Deal's intentions were good.

Let's look at that for a moment. We might take the entire Administration record and analyze the "good intentions." Instead, take just one subject—relief. Billions have been appropriated by Congress to relieve suffering. Yet members of the President's own party admit that this money was used in 1934, 1936 and 1938 to muster votes for the New Deal. "Tammany Jim" Farley has been permitted to use it to Tammanyize the nation. Harry Hopkins, Tommy Corcoran and other Brain Trusters have been allowed to use it for propaganda to support their radical views. In other words, money appropriated for human relief was used for political machinations. And the President knew of these uses.

All We Have to Do

The 1938 report of the Rockefeller Foundation suggests that the middle-aged person might avoid nervous indigestion if he would "follow a system of living in which he finds tranquility of mind."

That is excellent advice as far as it goes. All we need to know now is what to do about the parties in the house next door, the radio at the window across the street, the motorist who uses his horn instead of his brakes, taxes, economic uncertainty, the price of apples, and the situation in Europe.

This will be a better country when folks spend more time wondering what they can do for the country than what the country can do for them.

Lake Villa School News

Upper Room

Mr. Thompson from Warren High school was here Monday morning to ask the eighth graders over on May 2, at 8:15 p. m. for "High School Advice."

Mr. Moore from Grant High school came over Monday morning to ask the eighth graders to come for "Open House," at 8:30 a. m. Friday morning. The boys went to Gurnee grade school last Wednesday to play in their ping pong tournament. The boys were: Johnnie Meyer, Bill Effinger, Robert Hodgkins, Ervin Barnstable, and John Christiansen.

The girls had a tournament on Friday of last week. They played the Gurnee girls. They were: Marilyn Tiede, June Walker, Gladys Keisler, Marjorie MacLaren, and Lenore Groebli. Both our girls and boys were the victors in their games.

We had movies on Tuesday of this week on Refrigeration. Combined with our new movie machine the show was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Lake Villa Play School has been meeting for two weeks under the supervision of Mrs. Epker. The children are from 4 to 5½ years.

Enid Karolus, John Allen, Paul Allen, Lorraine Bock, Claudette Brownlee, Allean Hamlin and Betty Solberg have been attending. Walks, songs, games, painting and modelling, and playing with blocks are greatly enjoyed by the children. Mothers of Lake Villa are invited to visit the group and enroll their children if they are interested.

Intermediate Room

We brought our hobbies to school. We talked about them and showed them to the class. It was very interesting.

Edna Jean brought one of her 43 plants that she had at home for her hobby. Several of the boys brought their stamp books. Chuck Madsen has 1,500 stamps in his collection and Junior Miller has about 2,000 stamps in his.

Lois Parsons singing "The Indian Love Call" is really something worth hearing.

The 4th, 5th and 6th grades are busy practicing up on negro dialect for their part of the program. Such expressions as "honey chile" and "you all" are flying around.

Primary Room

Don't miss the program May 5. Irving Buchta is really quite a dancer. Bob Thompson and Barbara Tiede would much rather put on a boxing bout but finally consented to dance together instead. Our accompanist, Susie Weber, and Bob Thompson would give Paderewski competition and Cliff Bartlett is a conductor who doesn't come far behind Stokowsky.

Great Dances, Boar-Hounds

Great Dane dogs were originally known as boar-hounds because they were so big and powerful that they could bring to earth the wild boar in early Saxon hunts—that they are one of the mightiest of breeds, their weight running well over 100 pounds—that despite their size, they are gentle and companionable.

Sorghum Used for Molasses

Sorghum is a kind of sugar cane that thrives very well in northern latitudes and can take heavy punishment by way of drought. The juice pressed out of sorghum stalks is evaporated to produce a very good molasses.

It's Most Exciting Blouse Season Known in Years

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHEN it comes to drawing the crowds it's the blouse sections that are doing it these days—most exciting blouse season known for years.

The main reason for this stampede in the blouse direction is that suits rank one-high in importance this spring and as every woman and her sisters and her cousins and her aunts well know, the proper upkeep of a suit calls for one chic blouse after another. However, the fact that suits are "tops" this season is not the only reason for the mad rush blouseward that is going on. It's the blouses themselves that are the magnet that draws, from the standpoint of "style" color and material they are simply not to be resisted.

The interest displayed in sterling pure silk weaves for the blouse this season is especially significant. Simply tailored blouses like the one shown below to the right in the illustration are indispensable with your tweeds. This model, a Lelong creation, is tailored of a heavy exotic silk crepe in rich deep red. It has a tucked shirt front fastened with leather thongs that clasp into gilt "croquet wickets."

Collarless jacket suits frequently have the jacket lined in the same silk print (jacket is often reversible) as fashions the blouse. Dotted silks are the rage for this sort of styling. If it is something out of the ordinary you are wanting to fit into the scheme of things take note of the stunning "bib blouse" pictured to the left below. It classifies under ingenue or schoolgirl type, which does not mean that it is restricted to teen-age wear, for it's the fashion to wear young looking clothes this spring that belie age.

counted in years. The clever big effect is achieved via an insert of bold big dots contrasting the tiny-dot-print.

The revival of the ornate dressy blouse reflects the influence of the gay nineties. See the model in the upper left corner of the picture. In creating this lady-type blouse for dinner or cocktail hours Lanvin alternates bands of black silk georgette and val lace finishing it off with highband neck and turnover collar.

The revival of the white blouse with the dark suit is one of fashion's top-most highlights. The Gibson girl blouse pictured above to the right is in white silk organdy with lace-trimmed jabot coming high at the neck. The bishop sleeve with its lace-trimmed frill at the wrists give this blouse the new look that is copied from the old.

For the be-frilled and lace edged, tucked and finely hand-worked white blouse now so fashionable, thin silks such as silk organdy or silk triple sheers that will wash well and keep their whiteness are highly recommended.

Perhaps the biggest sensation in the present vogue is the white peasant blouse with full-to-the-wrist long sleeves that gather into a tight band such as are worn with the very new gypsy skirts fashioned of vivid striped or plaid silk. For this blouse, designers use washable white silk chiffon or white silk organdy with gratifying results.

In the color modness that has gripped the world of fashion blouses are playing a dramatic role. Surah silk is a great favorite, printed or plain, stressing chartreuse, fuchsia, yellow gold, rust, violet, mustard and citrus colors.

Cloque Organdy

A multi-color floral print Swiss cloque organdy with a permanent crinkle that won't come out in the wash makes this lovely and practical dress for a little girl. The round ruffled collar is of white organdy inset and edged with val lace to match the lace edge finish of the puffed sleeves. The velvet ribbon sash is of soft blue to harmonize with the deeper blue background of the print. There will be quantities of cloque printed organdy used during the coming months.

Cottons Have New Roles This Spring

Cottons have new roles in the creation of spring fashions. Pique and linen, for example, are used for white toques and sailors to wear with navy blue suits. These fabrics also are important for collar and cuff sets that are attached to dark evening dresses. Gloves also are being made of these washable materials.

Gingham accents are equally as popular and unusual in their application to newest costumes. Plaid gingham pings appear as trimming on navy blue reefer suits and also make matching blouses.

New Hairdress Is Becoming Popular

A new hairdress covers the entire head in flat curls that remind of a boyish bob. It is very youthful and is referred to as the "little girl" hairdress. The high-do for hair is seen less in the daytime but still persists for formal occasion. At the immediate moment hair worn page-boy fashion is popular. A pleasing compromise is the arrangement that brings curls or puffs to the front in somewhat of a pompadour effect, with the almost shoulder-length end-curl bob at the back.

A Town Bag for You

One of the new handbags in rough straw braid is a navy town bag in plain rectangular shape with thick base, having a heavy gold chain around it near the top to simulate drawstrings.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

FLY BY NIGHTS

WHENEVER Jeff Peters, the engaging hero in the book of O. Henry stories called "The Gentle Grafter," went into a new town and spread his samples of corn cure, ink remover, etc., out in front of him, he always took one precaution. He made note of how soon the next train left.

He had to. Jeff never knew what minute he'd have to fold up his kit and hot-foot it for the station, with policemen and angry customers in close pursuit.

He was that kind of business man. We call them "fly by nights." They still infest our cities and towns, but you never saw one of them advertise or build a lasting success.

The man who advertises for your patronage shows that he has foresight and courage. He wants to establish goodwill and to remain in business, and the best way for him to do these things is to send down roots and advertise so that you may come to him whenever you need what he sells.

Jeff Peters stands for the furtive parasite, hanging around the fringe of respectable society, dashing in and taking whatever he can, giving nothing in return, ready to flee at any minute, always expecting to have to flee.

The manufacturer or merchant who advertises, however, serves notice that he has become a member of the community and society. He announces that he intends to be your business friend and to warrant your patronage.

And you buy from such a man with perfect assurance that you will always get your money's worth. And you do.

It's possible for you to go into some stores and find merchandise which glib salesmen assure you is "just as good."

The fact that even they use advertised items as the standard of comparison, is proof enough that they recognize the permanent power of the force we call advertising.

You as a consumer get more for your money if, in all your buying, you avoid the Jeff Peterses of business and select whatever you need from the stores of merchants who advertise and who sell advertised goods.

A business organization which wants to get the most for the money, sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, and in Washington the government has an elaborate Bureau of Standards.

You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power, every day of every year.

Skill in Flattery

There is an oblique way of reproof which takes off the sharpness of it, and an address in flattery which makes it agreeable, though never so gross; but of all flatterers the most skillful is he who can do what you like without saying anything which argues he does it for your sake.

Native Hardwood Floorings

According to the department of commerce booklet, "American Hardwood Flooring and Its Uses," oak, maple, beech and birch are especially well suited for flooring, but several other species are sometimes used, particularly for decorative effects, such as walnut, cherry, gum, ash and pecan.

Rare Metal Used in Steel

The rarest metal required in the manufacture of steel is probably columbium, which is used almost solely to prevent inter-granular corrosion in high chromium and chromium-nickel stainless and heat-resistant steels. The only known commercial supply of columbium exists in Nigeria.

Termed Railroads Passing Fancy

The town board of Lancaster, Ohio, in 1848 refused to allow a railroad company to build a station in the town because, so the members said, "this method of transportation is only a passing fancy and hence will last only a few years."

Bill Would Affect
Lake County Teachers

A bill now pending in the Illinois legislature would affect 26 Lake county elementary teachers, according to the Education association, sponsor of the minimum wage proposal.

The organization cites a National Education association study, showing that low-salaried teachers are handicapped in professional growth. Rural teachers receiving $650 per year spend an average of only $18 annually for summer school study, professional literature, and other means of professional growth. This is a matter of grave concern to the welfare of the children of the State, states the I. E. A. publication.

The Association further states that Illinois ranks 27th in the average salary paid to white teachers in one-room rural schools. Twenty-one states and the District of Columbia have state-wide minimum salary regulations, or salary schedules for teachers.

A Tribute to the Packing Industry

(Editor's Note—The following essay won second place for Robert White, Antioch, in a national contest conducted by Swift and Company, Chicago.)

(By Robert White)

The smooth and peaceful operation of the packing industry during the past three-quarters of a century should be an outstanding example to the American people of what can be accomplished when Agriculture, Industry and Labor work together for the common purpose of improving the living standards of those less fortunate and making the world happier in general.

Little did Gustavus Frank Swift, the founder of Swift and Company, realize when he started his little enterprise, that some day the great packing interests would create a steady and open market for all the livestock and livestock products from six million farms of America. Approximately thirty million people living on the farms depend wholly or partially upon the incomes derived from the sale of such raw products.

In addition, the pioneer Swift did not realize that today his company sells to 200,000 retailers who perhaps keep another million people, members of their families and employees, happy because they have work.

The production and marketing of Swift and Company's products requires the services of 58,000 employees, whose families are also kept happy because they are able to better to satisfy their wants.

Out of every dollar that Swifts take in from their sales, over eighty-one cents is paid to the producer of livestock. Nine cents goes to labor. The other expenses are paid out for freight, interest, depreciation, repairs, taxes, and supplies. A profit of a cent and a half is left to be paid to the stockholders who have money invested in the company.

Thus we see that no matter what angle we investigate, we are constantly reminded of the inter-relationship that exists between agriculture, industry, and labor. The smooth operation like this is responsible for the creation of millions of consumers who have money to spend and thereby create a demand which agriculture, industry, and labor need in order to remain stable.

Since most of the raw products are bought West of the Mississippi and finished products are most sold in the East, this necessitates considerable transportation and distribution. Railroads for long hauls and trucks for short hauls are depended upon. Back in 1877, Gustavus Swift had ten refrigerators cars built, and since then the distribution of fresh meats has been completely revolutionized. At present, Swifts have about 6,000 refrigerators cars operated between the Western and Eastern markets.

The cars used by Swift and Company have brine tanks or wire basket bunkers in which ice and salt are mixed. This insures a more intense cold than can be secured with ice alone. Quarters of beef, dressed lambs, calves, and pigs are hung so as to permit the circulation of air around them. Other products, packed in boxes, are placed on racks on the floor. This method of shipping "mixed" cars is permitted by The Interstate Commerce Commission. The cost of transportation is reduced considerably in such shipments and the benefit goes to the consumer in lower prices.

Last year over 100,000 carloads of Swift products were shipped. About four billion pounds of products were in these cars. It necessitated 450,000 tons of ice and 240 tons more for re-icing enroute. Each car averaged 22 trips last year and traveled over 31,000 miles.

Swift and Company is not only a national but a local organization, as it operates 39 local packing plants, 17 fertilizer plants, 7 cottonseed oil mills, and 13 shortening manufacturing plants. There are also 80 produce plants located in dairy and poultry districts. There are 450 branch selling houses and 700 car routes which serve retailers in over 10,000 cities and towns. This sales service requires the employment of 14,000 people. In addition, 1,500 Swift Company employees are operating more than 100 foreign sales agencies.

These local representatives live in the cities in which they work. They spend their money locally. Many own their own homes, support public schools, encourage good citizenship, and generally help to develop their communities into better places in which to live.

The packing industry is not owned by just a few people. Swift and Company's stock is owned by more than 45,000 shareholders living in all parts of this country and some in foreign countries. Most of these shareholders are producers, customers, and employees. The stock is widely distributed as is shown by the fact that it takes more than 1300 of the largest shareholders to have a majority vote.

Few people realize that Swift and Company pays more for the live animals than it receives for the dressed carcass. This can be explained by the fact that the packer can make a profit by efficiently using the by-products. The sales of the meat alone pays for the live animal but one must remember that there are many other products. Nothing is wasted—even the gallstones from cattle are sold to a special trade in China and Japan where they are used for a medicinal purpose. Hides are used for leather; bones for fertilizer; fats for oleo, oil and soaps; blood

FUTURE FARMERS HONOR KENNEDY AT ANNUAL BANQUET

A certificate of honorary recognition "for meritorious work in the field of agriculture" was presented to Frank B. Kennedy, retired farmer, at the sixteenth annual Father and Son banquet held by the Antioch chapter, Future Farmers of America, last Thursday evening at the high school.

About 125 attended the gathering. Mr. Kennedy operated a farm in Antioch township for 32 years and held many public offices in farm organizations. He now resides in Waukegan.

Prof. Gilberts Speaks

Prof. H. W. Gilberts, landscape specialist at the University of Illinois, and Herbert Damisch, vocational agriculture instructor at Elgin High school, were the principal speakers.

"Planning the Farmstead" was Prof. Gilberts' subject, and Mr. Damisch spoke on "Training the Farmer of Tomorrow, Today."

Acting as master of ceremonies was Orville Winfield, president of the Antioch Future Farmers chapter. Leo Keisler, an Antioch Township High school senior, spoke on Future Farmers' activities. C. L. Kutil, instructor in vocational agriculture at the school, presented second degrees and awards to members who have earned them during the past year.

The supper was prepared and served by girls of the home economics department at the school, under the advisement of Mrs. Ruby Richey.

Numerous Books Added to Library

A large number of books have been added to the Antioch Township library through purchases and gifts during recent months, according to Miss Mary Stanley, librarian.

Among them are the following: John Gunther—"Inside Europe," Pearl Buck—"The Patriot," H. W. Van Loon—"The Arts," Ogden Nash—"I'm a Stranger Here Myself!"

Joseph Conrad—"Lord Jim," Joseph Conrad—"Typhoon," Thomas Mann—"The Magic Mountain."

Anne Lindberg—"Listen! the Wind," Theo. Dreiser—"An American Tragedy."

Rolvag—"Giants in the Earth," Richard Bird—"Alone," Rachel Field—"All This and Heaven Too."

Rudolph Besier—"The Barretts of Wimpole Street," From the Literary Guild and Book of the Month:

Pierre Van Paassen—"Days of Our Years," Antonina Vallentin—"Leonardo da Vinci,"

Irwin Edman—"Philosopher's Holiday," Roger Vereel—"Tides of Mont St. Michel,"

Thomas Mann—"Joseph in Egypt," A. J. Cronin—"The Citadel," Elizabeth Page—"The Tree of Liberty,"

Robert Graves—"Count Belisarius," Rene Fulop-Miller—"Triumph Over Pain,"

Celia Matchat—"Suanne River," Daphne DuMaurier—"Rebecca," Mildred Walker—"Dr. Morton's Wife,"

Philip VanDe Stern—"The Man Who Killed Lincoln,"

The last book mentioned is a dramatically told story of Edwin Booth. Books have been received from friends of the library, including Rodney Jacobs, Kenneth Mortensen, Ray Hills, Mrs. Matthiesen of Bristol and others.

Periodicals have also been purchased and can be read by anyone wishing to do so. They are to be found on the reading-room table or in the rack lately added to the furnishings of the room.

Scores of other products such as violin bows, buttons, liver extracts for anemia; gland hormones; gelatin; brushes; and others all go toward building up an extra income which pays all other expenses besides the cost of the animal and leaves a small profit for the investors in the company.

Continually, when one reviews these statements, he must keep in mind that there are other packing companies, and that the combined interests must be considerably larger and that our figures may be multiplied several times in order to realize the immensity of the livestock and packing industry.

The confidence, the livestock men, dairymen, and poultry keepers, have in Swift and Company, the loyalty of Swift's employees, and the considerate management of the executives of the company have brought together the three great American groups, (Agriculture, Labor and Industry) into a smooth working combination that is typically American in principle.

Winning Essay in Fidac Contest

QUEEN MARIE OF ROMANIA

By Doris Klass

(Editor's Note: This is the prize-winning essay in the Fidac contest conducted by the Antioch American Legion auxiliary during the past several weeks. Roberta Selter was winner of second place.)

Out of a tiny country born of a war, a great peace-lover arose. Far from America, Rumania lay on the other side of a continent thrown into turmoil by greed and hate. This was a land of sturdy farmer folk, who longed for peace and happiness. They needed to progress much in their manner of living. So badly did they need a champion! One who understood their needs and would help them. One who was like them—a lover of beauty, one who recognized and appreciated another's superior work; one who would help and would be helped. One who, above all else, hated the misery and suffering inflicted by war, and who saw that it was needlessly brought on by misunderstanding, intolerance, egotism, money-makers, madmen. These must be wiped out by educating the masses of the people. Such a person did come—from England. A beautiful Queen—Marie, granddaughter of Queen Victoria who married the Rumanian King Ferdinand. Quiet, very attractive, beauty-loving, she could see her people, needing sympathy and understanding.

Her people needed international good-will. And Queen Marie knew where to obtain this—in a beautiful, happy land, the home of the brave and the free—America! The persuasion of many true friends made the journey to America, and to Canada, definite. In a rushing, complicated, thorough manner the royal plans were made to visit America and parts of Canada. Queen Marie of Rumania and two of the children, Prince Nicholas and Princess Elena, arrived at New York, New York. A gay noisy crowd greeted them with sincere enthusiasm. Everywhere she traveled in America and Canada she was greeted by the same elaborate, huge, worshipping crowds. Only the ill health of her husband, King Ferdinand, at home, was a nair on her complete enjoyment. Through this fine woman, Americans and Canadians learned to love her people, the Rumanians Marie herself said that a sure way to everlasting peace was understanding! If several people have a mutual understanding—after all the other fellow is human, too, and he has the same feelings as you and I have—they are quite likely to feel toward the person from another country as toward their fellow countrymen. Human understanding brings people closer together. Surely such people who see that they are united by common feelings and living will not wish to harm the other person!

Somewhere in the western part of our own country, farmers were taken aboard the royal train by Queen Marie's request. She wished to talk with them personally. No doubt she could find help from these men to carry back with her to Rumania—to her own people, so like American farmers. Queen Marie marveled at our progress! We were carrying on a busy, modern life, where less than fifty years before, there had been nothing but wilderness! Here among us, Americans, was a splendid, shining example for her Rumanians to follow! How she admired and respected our almost unbelievable progress! Here was a nation worth knowing! And Marie did learn about America, and took it to her generous heart.

If only more could see as Marie. Her hopes, her dreams, her very life devoted to peace. Peace, happiness, freedom for the world. Is all her work to go for nothing? Are all her hopes of a beautiful, peaceful world to be crushed, today? A few men, greedy, cruel, killing all hope of freedom as they march on. Under their oppression Marie's people—any people, in fact could not long live. But there is a country where Marie's life work can be saved. We live in that country. What a responsibility lies on every persons to cherish and preserve peace and freedom. Marie said, "Peace through understanding." Remember! This truly great woman shall not have lived in vain.

'Dumb as a Dodo'

If anything is "as dead as a dodo," it's really dead. The flightless fowls, larger than turkeys, were once found on only three islands in the Indian ocean—Mauritius, Reunion, and Rodriguez. They were first spotted about 1500 and were extinct 150 years later, killed by rats, pigs, and dogs brought to the islands by colonizers. The expression, "dumb as a dodo," hits the spot, too. On their isolated islands, says the Washington Post, they had never been troubled by enemies and when man came and started killing them, the others were just too dumb to hide. They'd walk right up to a man and wait to be hit over the head.

Clearest of All Alphabets

Peace—With What?

PEACE is defined as "a state of quiet or tranquillity; freedom from disturbance or agitation; calm; repose."

Generally speaking, humanity knows not where to find true tranquillity, nor with what to make a compact in order to be free from disturbance. It perplexedly views the spectacle of men and nations that have little or no peace even after making great sacrifices to obtain it. Many gaze uncomprehendingly upon the settled peace of the reformer who has perhaps provoked storms of hate and opposition, but who nevertheless is himself serene, because he is in agreement with Truth and good.

With what, then, shall we seek to be in agreement? Here is indeed the vital question, for our choice will result either in gaining spiritual peace or in experiencing the lack of it. In seeking a basis for peace, should we not turn to the Bible, the acknowledged storehouse of true wisdom? If we accept its inspired teachings, which reveal God, good, as the basis for all action, agreement, and being, shall we not find our peace in reflecting Him?

Attempts to make peace with human personalities as such, or with shifting material conditions and temporal pressures, bring only confusion. Since Truth, Life, and Love alone are enduring, there can be intelligent expectancy of peace only through conscious agreement with divine Principle. The would-be peace which springs from human temporizing, is as temporary and unsatisfying as is its illusive foundation. Enduring peace is built upon an enduring basis.

The decisions of world politics cannot prevent the individual from experiencing peace through his adherence to Truth. Nothing can stop one from loving and being loved; from being grateful to God for His goodness; and from helping others to be happy by his expression of God's goodness. Mary Baker Eddy says in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, (p. 264) "Spiritual living and blessedness are the only evidences, by which we can recognize true existence and feel the unspeakable peace which comes from an all-absorbing spiritual love."

Neither in matter, nor in false material sense, nor in human policy, is peace to be found. That which denies the power and presence of God can never contribute to one's conscious at-onement with spiritual good. The material and temporal, which are opposed to spiritual harmony, do not constitute reality. Spiritual sense discerns the aliveness of God, the nothingness of matter and the powerlessness of physical sense to interfere with divine facts. When one is at peace with God, whatever seems to oppose one's manifestation of good is neutralized by the fact that good is true, and that its supposititious opposite is untrue.

Christ Jesus expressed more God-likeness than any other who has ever walked the earth, and he therefore was more conscious of peace than any other. He knew that spiritual peace was one of the greatest blessings he could leave to men; for he said, before parting from his beloved disciples (John 14:27): "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." He spoke more than once of peace as being the result of following in his footsteps. Hate and misunderstanding might beset the path of his faithful followers, but their peace, founded upon the rock, Christ, would remain undisturbed. Such peace is bigger than circumstances, and circumstances do not change it.

All who acknowledge Christ Jesus as Master and Way-shower can find their peace where he found his, namely, in the daily demonstration of Truth and Love. As Paul declared (1 Cor. 13:3-11), "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."—The Christian Science Monitor.

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:36; 16:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—And after he had seen the vision, immediately, we endeavored to go into Macedonia.—Acts 15:19.

Guidance is the moment by moment need of every man and woman, boy and girl. The whole of life calls for decisions, many of which look quite innocent and unimportant, but upon which the destiny of an entire life may turn. Who does not recall the poet's lament over the want of an ordinary horse shoe nail which resulted in the loss of the shoe, which disabled the horse, whose rider was lost, with the result that the battle went against his people.

Since the great issues of life may turn on the simplest of choices, we need guidance at every point in life. This need has been recognized by those who would make merchandise of their neighbors. Quacks and charlatans offer guidance by every method, from reading the palm, looking at the stars, or consulting the spirits, to those smug enterprises which pose as spiritual and talk much of prayer, but which do not honor the name of Christ nor recognize Him as Redeemer and Lord.

One of the glories of the Christian faith is that the believer is indwelt by the third person of the Trinity, the Holy Spirit Himself, who is ready and willing to give divine guidance in every detail of life from the smallest to the greatest.

We study today the coming of the gospel into Europe, and that means through our forefathers to America. We consider what from our viewpoint was a crucial point in the history of the Church. Thanks be to God that His servant Paul was in that hour obedient to the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Observe that the gospel came to Europe

I. By Providential Hindrance (15:36; 16:4-9).

Not only the steps, but also the stops of a good man are ordered of the Lord. That is not an easy lesson to learn. We may be as much in the will of the Lord when all of our efforts seem to be thwarted as when they prosper. Let us not forget it.

Paul had set out on a second journey to carry out a follow-up campaign in the cities where he had already preached. This was a good plan and had God's blessing (see v. 5). But soon we find that word "forbidden" (v. 6) and then "suffered not" (v. 7). The Holy Spirit began to close doors to the gospel preacher. Now what? Shall he go on in determined self-will? Or shall he become discouraged and embittered in his soul? No, let him wait, for God is guiding him by providential hindrance, which is soon to be followed

II. By Divine Guidance (16:9, 16). The Spirit spoke to Paul in a vision revealing the divine purpose that the gospel should go over into Macedonia. The Spirit leads in our day, possibly not by visions, but by impelling inward prompting complemented and checked by the teaching of Scripture and by providential circumstances, and a man may know what is the will of God.

A word of caution is needed at this point. Some earnest Christian people go astray by projecting their own desires and purposes into the place where they come to regard them as the will of God, and thus do themselves and others, and Christianity itself much harm. The three things already mentioned should agree—(1) the inner prompting of the Spirit, (2) the teaching of God's Word, and (3) God's hand in our outward circumstances.

III. Through a Faithful Witness (vv. 11-14).

The gospel came to Europe because Paul and his fellow workers were faithful to their calling. When God led, they went to Macedonia (vv. 11, 12), where they sought out those who were in the place of prayer (v. 13). Paul spoke to them about Christ (v. 14). It is one thing to have a vision, it is another thing to be obedient to that vision (Acts 26:19). There are some who talk much of their consecration to God, but who give little evidence of it. The little girl was right (though her grammar was wrong) when she said, "It's better to walk your talk than to talk your walk."

IV. Through a Receptive Heart (vv. 14, 15).

God sent an obedient messenger to the place where He had a prepared heart (v. 14). Space forbids much reference to this godly, successful business woman and house-mother, but we do note that she not only received the Word of God into her own heart, but at once gave herself to the task of passing it on. The first thing she could do was to give aid and comfort to the messenger of the truth, and she did that at once. Be assured that from that day on she did all she could to prosper the gospel on its way through Europe and to the ends of the earth. Have we done likewise?

WOMAN, DEAD FOR 5 MINUTES, CALLS IT BEAUTIFUL SLEEP

Topped Over While Talking to Children; Revived by Physician.

NEW YORK.—"It was like a beautiful sleep. I felt nothing, knew nothing. I was amazed when they told me I had been 'dead' for five minutes."

That was the reaction of Mrs. Bella Futterman, a Bronx housewife, whose heart stopped beating for five minutes until it was coaxed back into action with injections of the powerful adrenalin, artificial respiration and inhalators.

To Dr. Maurice Roy Goodwin and his nurse went full credit for the medical miracle which restored an apparently dead woman to life.

Talking to Children.

Mrs. Futterman was talking to her children in her apartment when she toppled off the sofa, unconscious from an asthmatic attack.

Four minutes after he was summoned Dr. Goodwin arrived and, finding no trace of heart action or breathing, pronounced her dead. Not waiting to remove his overcoat, he started artificial respiration.

Adrenalin was injected into Mrs. Futterman's heart by Mahilda Pinksner, a nurse living in the building. A police emergency squad was summoned, but before its arrival Mrs. Futterman breathed faintly.

Given Oxygen.

To aid her feeble fight for life, inhalators were used and she was given oxygen for several hours. Her breathing became normal only after three tanks of oxygen were used.

Mrs. Futterman said:

"The doctor is wonderful. I told him I had an attack and then fainted. It was not until last night they told me I had been dead."

"God was wonderful to me. I was allowed to come back to take care of my husband and children. I pleaded with them to take care of themselves, and especially my baby, Sammie, when I thought I was going to die. But now I can do it."

She has suffered several previous attacks, but none so serious, and she cannot entirely recover in this climate. She must go to some dry climate, preferably Arizona, before she can regain her health.

Boy Aged Seven Really Sees World Topsy-Turvy

DECATUR, ALA.—The world is really upside down to Jimmie Peebles, seven-year-old Hillsboro (Ala.) school boy.

When Jimmie reads a book, a newspaper or magazine, he holds it the wrong way. When automobiles pass along the street, they seem to have their wheels in the air. He thinks persons would look natural if they walked on their hands.

At least, that's the way Jimmie explained his predicament to an eye specialist in Decatur, where he was brought for treatment.

The optometrist examined Jimmie's eyes and found vision normal. He said the lad is bright for a boy of his age. To test Jimmie, the doctor had him read a comic page. Jimmie read very well for a second grade pupil, but he held the paper upside down.

Jimmie's school teacher discovered his condition when she noticed him holding his reader upside down. It was easier to read that way, he said.

Then she tried the blackboard, and Jimmie read much more readily when it was inverted.

Veteran of 2 Wars Lives 17 Years on Houseboat

WINTHROP, MASS.—Joseph Fraser, veteran of the Spanish and World wars, for 17 years has "lived alone and liked it" on a trim houseboat tight against the shore that separates this town from Boston.

Love of the sea, says Fraser, prompted him to establish a bait business here. Everything is compact and ship-shape in his 30 by 10 bachelor quarters, which include a bedroom, living room, kitchen, porch and workroom. At high tide, the "home" is completely at sea.

Cat Discards Judgment Over Appetite for Fish

KERNVILLE, CALIF.—Mrs. Etta McDonald would like to know if the dominating intellectual quality of cats is intelligence or just perseverance.

Her pet cat, in search of its preferred diet of fish, delved its head too far into the fragmentary contents of a can of salmon and remained with its head inside until released the next morning in a virtual state of collapse. Sufficiently recovered, however, to begin life anew, it at once repeated the performance.

Intruder Gets Surprise, Apologizes and Departs

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—Mrs. Florence Iacabaci was awakened by the noise of an elderly man climbing through her first floor bedroom window.

"What do you want?" she quavered.

Though startled, the intruder didn't forget his manners. Politely tipping his hat, he said:

"I beg your pardon. I seem to have got in the wrong bedroom."

He retreated through the front door.

Yesterdays

48 YEARS AGO

April 30, 1891

The roads are drying up, but are still terrible rough.

At the school meeting last Saturday evening the proposition to build was defeated by a large majority. We believe the taxpayers are in favor of building but that they feel, and justly, that they have a right to know something about the proposed cost of the building.

Miss Addie Shaffer has returned from her winter vacation and has a new stock of spring millinery which she will be pleased to show the ladies of this vicinity.

On Friday evening last your reporter was startled by seeing two men at about dark, wending their way wearily toward our village from the west, looking a great deal as though they meant harm to some one or had been doing so somewhere. But upon closer observation he saw one of them carrying a heavy load of something which he could not ascertain owing to the fast approaching darkness.

Drawing very near and getting a close look at them revealed to him two well-known and honored young men from our village, Messrs. George and Will Walter, who had been on a fishing tour with some of their friends; the load they were carrying being about forty pounds of good-sized fishes, the largest weighing about six pounds. The whole day's catch was about eighty pounds. And plenty of experience they had on that very day regarding break-downs, encampments, parades, etc. But the reporter was assured that they would have another day off again next season.

Note by Yesterdays editor: What became of the other forty pounds of fish? Lunch?

30 YEARS AGO

April 29, 1909

Bids for work totaling almost half a million dollars to be done at the Illinois naval training station, at Lake Bluff, were opened Tuesday by the Navy Department. James Corse, of Racine, Wis., was the lowest bidder for the construction of the officers' houses at the station. Rear Admiral Albert Ross, in charge of the construction, declares that the station will be completed by July 1, 1910.

Four of the Graham brothers, famous local sharpshooters, and Harry Dunnill represented Lake county against marksmen of the Chicago Gun club. Chicago won, 433 to 430.

Branien & Edmundson have set the opening day of the Sylvan Beach hotel for Sunday, May 2, and if the weather permits expect to have a large crowd on that day.

15 YEARS AGO

May 1, 1924

Tea-year-old Elizabeth King, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. King, was quite seriously injured Saturday and narrowly escaped with her life when she became frightened by a team of rig and ran into the path of a truck driven by E. J. Gilmore, Bristol.

All prospective baseball players who wish to play with the Antioch team for the coming season are requested by Herbert Vos, secretary, to meet at the ball park Sunday.

No Snakes for Hawaii

Authorities will not permit excursions to ship snakes into Hawaii. As a "serpentes" land the Pacific island rates in a class with Ireland and a couple of runner-up places. The Irish claim snakes can't live on their island, and have not lived there for centuries, observes a writer in the Washington Post. The common lizard is said to be the only reptile found in Ireland. Madagascar has been publicized as an island with no poisonous snakes. But, among its "harmless" reptiles is the tree boa constrictor, the "most mean-tempered of the non-venomous serpents."

Daisy Means 'Innocence'

In florigraphy, the ancient Greek and Roman language of flowers, the daisy means "innocence."

Old Blount Mansion
One of the favorite points of interest to visitors to east Tennessee is the old Blount mansion at Knoxville, which was the first frame house built west of the Alleghenies and for years was the hub of government for all the territory south of the Ohio river. The house was erected by William Blount in 1792. Two years before that Blount had been appointed by President George Washington as governor of the Washington district, which was later carved into Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi and Alabama. The old Blount mansion is of early American design.

Early Inventor of Cold Cream
A Roman named Galen is credited with inventing cold cream, by using a formula that is virtually unchanged to this day.

Gas Refrigerator

IT'S PERMANENTLY SILENT because it has no moving parts in its freezing system

Since the Servel Electrolux refrigerator operates on gas, a single burner takes the place of moving, wearing parts . . . a tiny flame circulates the refrigerant, without wear or noise.

These are important advantages in themselves, but equally important are the other results that you get in refrigeration freezing without moving parts . . . the fact that the low operating cost is never increased, that Servel gives you more years of service, and actually can save enough in food alone to pay for itself.

Ask your friends and neighbors who own Servels what they think of gas refrigeration . . . then, before you decide, get all the facts about Servel Electrolux "the gas refrigerator you hear about but never hear!"

SPRING CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN AT H. S. MAY 5

Band, Swing Band, and Choruses Will Take Part in Program

"Specialty" numbers will heighten the interest of the annual spring concert to be sponsored by the Music Appreciation club of Antioch Township High school Friday evening, May 5, in the school auditorium.

The school band, of about 35 or 40 pieces the 40-voice a cappella choir and the glee club are among the groups to be represented.

Soloists are to be featured, also. Dancing Afterward
The school's popular "swing band" will offer specialties and will play for the dance which will follow the musical program.

Refreshments will be available during the intermission between the concert and the dance.

Hans von Holwede, music instructor at the school, is in charge of the program, which will start at 8 o'clock.

Tickets are being distributed by students at the high school, and additional tickets will be available at the door.

Since the seating capacity of the auditorium will accommodate only about three or four hundred comfortably, those who wish to attend are being urged to secure their tickets in advance.

Festival Draws Crowd
A capacity house enjoyed the Antioch Grade school's music festival, held in the high school auditorium last Friday evening.

Rhythm band selections, Mexican dances, Glee club and band numbers and one-act plays were presented by the children.

ACES TO START SPRING TRAINING

Local Team Seeks Talent for 1939 Season; Look for Manager

The thud of ball on bat and glove—sweet music to the baseball enthusiast—will be heard here Sunday afternoon when the spring training grind of the Antioch Aces will start at the high school grounds.

Luliver Lasco, long identified with the Aces, has been the prime mover each year in reviving the sport here, revamping the team, and getting things underway so that fans in this locality will not be deprived of their share of the sport. Incidentally, Lasco likes to play ball.

All of the old players are urged to be present on the field at two o'clock, and all youngsters are invited to come out and try for places on the team.

Lasco and others on the team are anxious to land a manager, preferably one who has minor league experience, to handle the affairs of the club this year.

The Aces had a very successful season last year, winning a majority of games played.

Grass Lake P. T. A. Elects Mrs. Anderson

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson was elected president of the Grass Lake Parent Teacher association to succeed Mrs. Elsie Smith at a meeting held Friday evening. Mrs. Anderson was vice-president of the organization during the past year.

Other new officers are Mrs. Marie Yopp, vice-president; Mrs. Doris Bray, second vice-president; Mrs. Bernice Wood, re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. Harriet Davis, secretary.

Mrs. Ruby Richey, home economics instructor at Antioch Township High school, was the speaker.

Refreshments and a social hour followed.

Glenview Man Crashes Into Lake Villa Truck

A hearing will be held tomorrow for Evan Running, Glenview salesman, charged with drunken driving after his automobile crashed into a Lake Villa township truck operated by Henry Meyer, Friday at the intersection of Routes 173 and 54. Running was examined by Dr. W. W. Warriner of Antioch, who pronounced him intoxicated, and a warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace Bruno W. Stanczak.

Attend Jr. Red Cross Meeting in Washington

Doris Klass, Antioch; Lenore Fisher, Fox Lake, and Edna White, Warren township, are the Lake county delegates to the Junior Red Cross convention being held in Washington, D. C., this week.

They left Saturday for Washington. Mrs. Lester Ball is accompanying them on the trip.

Seems nice to see the sun again. Kind of a foretaste of the beautiful summer weather we hope to have, once in a while. Somehow all this war talk over in Europe seems pretty sad, even pitiful, when you get out in the country and look around at the wonder of nature awakening in the springtime.

We paid a visit to Petrifying Springs park, up in Kenosha county the other evening, along about sundown. And we wondered whether, with all the natural beauty that there is in Lake county, it wouldn't be a good thing if we borrowed a few ideas from our neighbor to the north and tried making some of the picnic spots in our lakes region still more inviting to visitors.

When you figure up how much war costs, it isn't any wonder some of the European nations are pretty poor. War is one investment that doesn't show much of a profit, no matter who wins or who loses.

We don't often break down and publish unsigned communications, but the following, while it doesn't necessarily coincide with our views, seems to have some thought-provoking ideas in it:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Antioch—
"While passing through your 'fair' village one night recently I couldn't help but notice that your main street seemed to be divided against itself. On one side the disfiguring telephone poles, and on the other side a heterogeneous line of street-lights. Perhaps it is this situation that has lost a great deal of trade to your merchants."

"In many of the surrounding and competing villages, the people have made such improvements in their village to entice customers to the stores. 'Perhaps if your village made use of the cables laid under the sidewalks to light new street lights (if the cable were placed there for that reason) your village will have made a start on an 'Attraction Program' which your village seems to need and has needed."

I. C. All.

Anyway, the guy, or lady, has pretty good handwriting.

Panorama of West Is Shown in "Stagecoach"

"The west as it really was" is presented in "Stagecoach," coming to the Crystal Theatre Saturday for three days.

Nine oddly assorted passengers start for Lordsburg, New Mexico, by stagecoach in the fall of 1885. Each has his or her own personal reasons for wanting to get there.

Then strange things begin to happen. Danger threatens them all, and the members of the audience are caught up into an absorbing story that moves rapidly on from one exciting incident to another.

Because of the element of suspense in this movie, those attending are urged to come in at the start of the picture. Shows begin at 7 and 9 o'clock.
